

Manndate European Manufacturer

Manndate introduce you to their new European manufacturers...

One of Manndate's commitments to our members is to continually source new products – to give you more choice, flexibility and knowledge when working with your clients. With this in mind – over the next few months we are pleased to announce several additions to our portfolio from Europe.

Our European member of the team, Trudy Feeney, has first hand knowledge of working with these manufacturers and will be able to give you all the support you need when considering using them for your latest projects.

As you aware, manufacturing standards within the UK and Europe are of the highest level; all new European manufacturers that we showcase will have attained these standards, or even in some cases gone over and above what is legally required. Sustainability, Fit for Purpose & Environmental Issues have all been taken into consideration when choosing these new additions for our portfolio.

Introducing Demko® Bed System

Function... Design... Nature... Organic...

These are the key words that will greet you as you enter into the world of Demko.

Demko began its operation in 1990 and has since been establishing excellent brand awareness throughout Europe. It is the first choice for health-conscious customers. They have achieved 19 International Awards ranging from Industrial Design Awards; Hotel Furniture of the Year Award and Meble-Plus Furniture of the Year Award, Eco-Life Award, Bio-Furniture of the year, 4 times Superbrands award and the list goes on and are still going from strength to strength.

The revolutionary DEMKO bed insert system is the result of several years of research and development. The system has won many international awards and since 2006 has been extensively used as a medical device. Clinical tests, experimental results and medical reports have proven that this structural solution is an excellent means of prevention and treatment of vertebral and limb disorders. Its beneficial impact on your health, its dynamics, comfort and durability exceed the parameters of any other slat base or mattress.

The mattresses used for the Demko bed insert system are 100% Organic which is an excellent way to reduce exposure to the toxins so prevalent in consumer products today. They are constructed with cruelty-free Eco-Wool, certified organic cotton and 100% natural rubber latex – all renewable, biodegradable resources.

Another key product is the “Silver” wool range of blankets and pillows; the special “Silver” wool combines the positive medical effects of wool and silver. The silver ion (Ag) is bioactive and in sufficient concentration readily kills bacteria, algae and fungi and.....

Demko is currently the only EU Company that has the rights to sell it!
